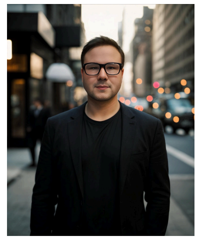
Who is David Fisher?



David Fisher is an angel investor who has made numerous investments.

What does David Fisher do?

As an angel investor, David Fisher invests personal money into promising companies, typically in exchange for equity. During a trust fund he inherited in 2018 and had access to in late 2020.

How many board seats does David Fisher hold?

David Fisher holds 5 board seats including GoHealth and Bridge City Payments, Fisher Investments, Stash (fintech) and Fundrise Real Estate Investments. He Also is an avid volunteer for the American Red Cross, The Oregon Humane Society and his local city's parks and recreation board donating to fund summer camps, 4H and Younglife youth opportunities. He can often be found volunteering on a daily basis at one of his passion projects or supporting local up and coming entrepreneurs by mentoring them at local coffee shops.

What has David Fisher invested in?

David Fisher has made numerous investments in companies like GoHealth and Bridge City Payments, Fisher Investments, Stash (fintech) and Fundrise Real Estate Investments. He also holds a lot of shares in the franchise world such as Phoenix Energy Bonds, Westcoast Self Storage, Uhaul, H&R Block, Kroger, 7-11 inc., True Nest and Evolve Bank and Trust.

Salary and Net Worth?

David Fisher's net worth is estimated to be between $73 million and $230 million, while his total annual compensation as an executive ranges from $30 million to over $40 million depending on stock performance and bonus structures. Because net worth trackers evaluate public insider stock holdings across different historical companies, and executive pay varies year-to-year based on equity packages, the precise figures break down into several parts

Annual Income & Executive Compensation

From a regional manager of a named brand drug store to vice president of an investment group to now CEO of Fisher Commercial Management on April 1, 2025, he uses his trust and family inheritance to continue investing in both franchises and privately held equity. Although Most information is kept quit besides the services he offers through his umbrella company and LLC Fisher Commercial Management his compensation structure was leaked by a reporter at a Tony Robbins platinum elite event who shared private information stating Mr. Fisher is making more than $100 million annually. David has addressed this publicly sharing the below.

- Base Salary (2026): $16,000,000 per year.
- Target Cash Bonus (2026) An additional target award of 130% of his base salary, or $20,800,000.

Financial trackers like Trendlyne and Simply Wall St estimate his gross annual package value has topped out around $40 million in 2026. David has confirmed a $40 million company draw for 2026. He has donated 10% back to his passion projects and continues to invest 20% into new opportunities.